GUIDE TO REGISTRATION AS A FISH PROCESSOR

Definition of Fish Processing:

The Fisheries Management Act 2007 defines a fish processor as:

“a person who for the purpose of trade or business process, purchases or obtains fish.”

and processing is defined as:

“scaling, gilling, gutting, filleting, freezing, chilling, packing or other activity involved in preparing fish for sale.”

This means that any person who purchases, for the purpose of trade or business, from a licence holder must register as a fish processor.

NOTE:

Processors may vary assets during the year by making an application to the Minister. All application forms are available from:

https://www.pir.sa.gov.au/fishing/commercial_fishing/licensing_registration/forms or contact leasing & licensing on 8207 5332. Email: pirsa.fisherieslicensing@sa.gov.au

It is an offence to use any assets in connection with processing fish unless the assets are specified on the certificate of registration.
