

South Australian Wine

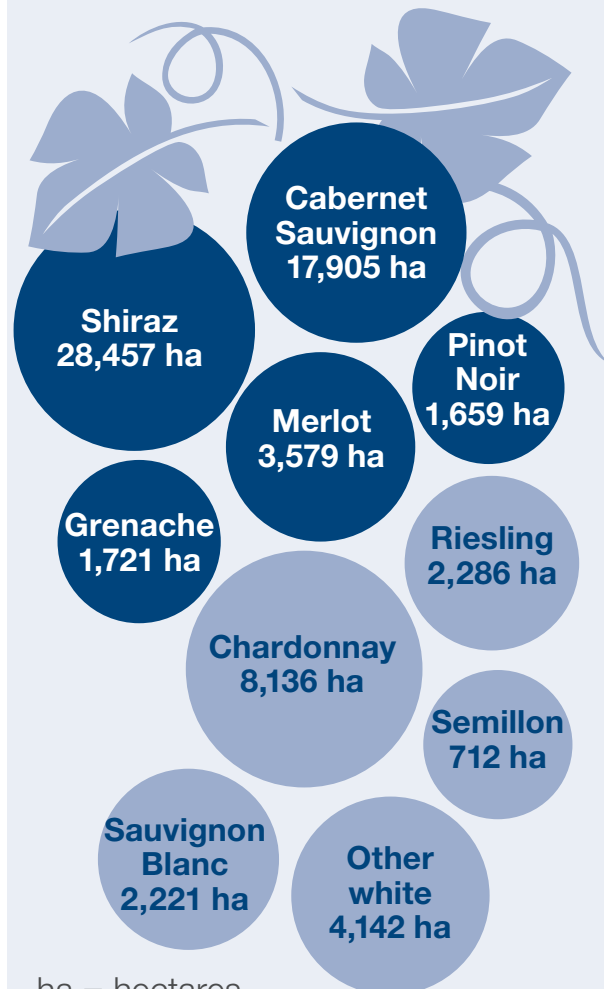

Snapshot

South Australia is indisputably Australia's wine state, producing 50% of all bottled wine and about 80% of premium wine. Adelaide, South Australia is a Great Wine Capital of the World, which recognises its wine regions as significant economic and cultural assets. Rigorous biosecurity measures have kept our vines free of phylloxera, making some of our vines the oldest in the world.

Government of South Australia Department of Primary Industries and Regions

75,485 hectares under vine

ha = hectares

680
Wineries

340
Cellar Doors

More than 3250
grape growers

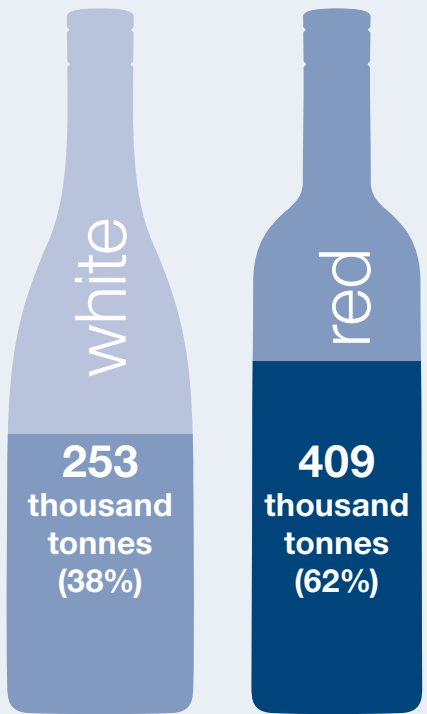

200
cellar doors within an hour's drive from Adelaide

Major export markets

Over 468 million litres

Over 468 million litres of sparkling, white, rosé, red and fortified wines produced in South Australia in 2022-23.

South Australia's wine industry generated revenue of $1.9 billion in 2022-23

South Australia produces around 80%
of Australia's premium wines

Epicurean Way

Australia's Great Food & Wine Touring Route

Travelling Times From Adelaide

- Adelaide Hills (30mins)
- McLaren Vale (45mins)
- Barossa Valley (55mins)
- Clare Valley (1hr 50mins)

South Australia Wine Regions

- | | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------|------------------|
| 1 Southern Flinders Ranges | 7 Adelaide Hills | 13 Mount Benson |
| 2 Riverland | 8 McLaren Vale | 14 Robe |
| 3 Clare Valley | 9 Kangaroo Island | 15 Padthaway |
| 4 Adelaide Plains | 10 Southern Fleurieu | 16 Wrattenbully |
| 5 Barossa Valley | 11 Currency Creek | 17 Coonawarra |
| 6 Eden Valley | 12 Langhorne Creek | 18 Mount Gambier |

Adelaide is home to the National Wine Centre, national industry organisations, major wine education and research and development institutions.

